THAW PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO MURDER OF ARCHITECT WHITE

His Fair Young Wife Will Take The Witness Stand in His Behalf

And Tell the Whole Story of Her Relations With the Dead Man Before Marriage And His Pursuit of Her Since That Event.

New York, June 29.—With the decision of the attorneys who will defend Harry K. Thaw, for the murder of Stanford White, that the defense shall be emotional insanity, meaning that Thaw has been so worked up by his brooding over the wrongs of his wife and the pursuit of her by White that he was not responsible at the time he fired the fatal bullet, but is today sane, work has begun in earnest on the part of the young man's defenders to pile up the necessary evidence to support that contention.

This does not mean that any time has been lost so far by the defense, but with the determination of their method of defense it means that there is a great deal to be done and Thaw's defenders do not know just how much time they will have in which to work.

The defense of emotional insanity opens up a wide field for investigation. Under that plea the defense will be able to bring out all the facts leading up to the murder, show all the acts of White's life with which Thaw was familiar as having a bearing on the case in that they will show that the knowledge of these things wrought upon Thaw to bring on the fit of insanity in which he slew his enemy. Stories of White's doings of a nature calculated to upset a man who had the fact to brood over that some one very dear to him had once been submitted to similar treatment at his hands have been circulated in abundance. But before these can be told in court they must be put into tangible form, brought within the rules of evidence and made capable of indisputable verification.

This is a collossal undertaking owing to the fact that there is such a wealth of material to be examined and every word of which may prove invaluable to Thaw's case. To the sifting out of this material all efforts of the defense are now being directed and in this work the efforts of many detectives have been enlisted. It is a task which must be accomplished quickly too, because Thaw's attorneys do not know how much time will be allowed them. Things have happened quickly from the beginning of the tragedy. Stanford White's life went out in a moment. He had not any instant even for repentance when after he saw the avenger before him death came so quickly he spoke no word which might have been used to help send his murderer to the electric chair, provided he could have spoken such a word.

Not a moment since has been lost in pushing in legal steps to bring Thaw to the position he occupied today, that of a man under indictment for murder in the first degree. The coroner's inquest lasted less than an hour; the grand jury hearing was prolonged only half of that time. Today Thaw will be arraigned to plead. After that he faces trial at the instance of the district attorney.

And a trial for the prosecution means a different thing than it does for the defense. The state's case is already practically made out.

The murder of White by Thaw is not and cannot be denied.

There is plenty of evidence of premeditation, whether the reasoning of a sane man bent on ridding himself of an enemy at any cost, or the illogical ramblings of a diseased mind remains for the testimony to show, and the jury to decide. But the work for the district attorney's office is comparatively easy. On the mere showing of facts, unless the defense can offer evidence to show justification for Thaw's deed a verdict of guilty must follow.

Will a defense of emotional insanity prove sufficient to Harry Thaw. That is the question that is now being asked on all sides as this great murder case is still the all-absorbing subject of discussion in the city. Thaw's attorneys and friends believe it will. The telling of the entire story, they are confident, will make such an impression on any twelve men, who may be assembled in a jury box that they will straightway acquit Thaw.

In this belief they are backed by a recent incident of interest in the life of the city—the acquittal of Josephine Terranova, the Sicilian child wife, who was quickly freed from the charge of murder in the killing of her aunt and uncle when she told her story of abuses at their hands. Josephine Terranova's defense was emotional insanity. In her case it took the jury only long enough to register one ballot to decree her innocence. Thaw's friends and attorneys believe that there will be a similar ending to the trial of the young millionaire.

It is the same story, they point out in a new setting—the tale of a woman's wrongs. It is the old tragedy with new characters, told in a different way, with the stage fittings changed to represent the luxuries of high life instead of the miserable surroundings in which Josephine Terranova passed her miserable existence.

The ending of such a tragedy is always the same, the murder of the betrayer. The denoument Thaw's friends believe in his case, cannot fail to follow the natural course—the rendering of a popular verdict declaring that punishment had already fallen where it was merited—that the real crime has been avenged—that the avenger has violated no law for which he should call down on himself the slightest penalty.

The rehearsal of the full story of the causes for the murder is bound to be dramatic in the extreme and replete with sensations.

The central figure in the court drama promises to be not the indicted man but his wife Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. She has determined that to save her husband she will go on the stand and tell the whole story. She will hold back nothing—her early relations with White must all come out—the tale of his pursuit of her after her marriage will likewise be shown and proved conclusively Thaw's friends assert by letters in her possession. In this connection it is also stated today some startling facts will be brought out to show the treatment to which Evelyn Nesbit was subjected to by White previous to her marriage when she was still the pet of the dead architect.

In the batch of letters which were turned over by the young wife to Thaw's attorneys it is claimed are allusions to incidents in her life for which White was responsible which when brought out will instantly win for her and the avenging husband the whole hearted sympathy of the jury.

That Thaw knew all these things will be shown—that they were enough in themselves to overthrow the reason of anyone who brooded over them will be asserted. All the refusal of White to give up his former victim after her marriage even in the face of warnings to do so and the defense believes it will have "made out" a case upon which the jury will deliberate but a few moment to bring in a verdict of acquittal.

The court story will include more, however. It will bring out incidents of White's life as affecting others than the immediate actors in the tragedy. White's relations with other women than Mrs. Thaw, his occasional hunt after young girls of beauty, who were new to New York, will be brought out. In this connection the story told by Manager Lawrence of the Madison Square Roof Garden where White met his death, will be important.

It will show that up to the very time of his death White continued this pursuit to young stage favorites. Not an hour before Thaw fired his fatal shot White had besought from Lawrence an introduction to Miss Fuller, a young girl who made her first appearance on a New York stage at the performance which was so tragically ended by the murder.

In the laying bare of White's real life outside of his office Thaw will have an unexpected support as has suddenly developed. It is now known that for 8 months before the murder the Society for the Prevention of Vice, of which Anthony Comstock is at the head, has been investigating White's career with a view of suppressing him and his set of cronies in alleged preying on young girls. This fact was brought out yesterday when Thaw in a moment given him while waiting in the office of Coroner Dooley for the inquest to begin called up Comstock on the telephone and asked him to call on him at the Tombs. Comstock, after his connection with Thaw had thus been made known, frankly admitted that his society had been keeping track of White and it was Thaw who called his attention to White.

Thaw, Comstock asserts, acted like a man who was thoroughly in earnest in wanting to put an end to the operations of men whose desires made them a menace to many young women coming to the city who fell under their influence. Thaw never mentioned Evelyn Nesbits name in this connection, although Comstock gathered from his manner that some one very dear to him had suffered at the hands of the man he wished suppressed. Comstock tried in vain to obtain evidence upon which legal proceedings could be instituted against White

While the defense is working to pile up a mass of evidence of this kind the district attorney's office is not remaining idle. In this connection a story has been brought up which the prosecution believes throws a new light on the murder, and shows that Thaw's act was one of revenge purely, rather than the act of a man made insane by brooding over his wife's troubles.

One great grievance it is asserted, has rankled Thaw for some time. It is that before he married Evelyn Nesbit, the actress had prepared to institute a civil suit against him and had backed it with a affidavit containing details which Thaw would gladly have paid any sum to suppress. He compromised later and married the girl.

In the preparation of this affidavit White is said to have had a hand.

This the prosecution may attempt to show, was the real secret of Thaw's hatred of White. It angered Thaw to think that White knew so much

The arraignment of Thaw today in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions will be merely a formal proceeding. Thaw will enter a plea of "not guilty" if he pleads at all. His attorneys may ask for time in which to decide upon a plea. If this is done it will be for the purpose of gaining time in which to pursue their investigation into White's life. The setting of the time for placing Thaw on trial will rest with District Attorney Jerome.

It is expected that there will not be any great delay although the district attorney may decide to let the case go over until the September term.

Jerome may take charge of the prosecution in person.

NOTED DESPERADO MADE HIS ESCAPE

From the Lexington, Ky., Jail Aided By His Wife and Other Criminals Were Released.

Lexington, Ky., June 29.—Through the assistance of his wife, J. F. Ball, of Middlesboro, Ky., one of the most noted desperadoes of eastern Kentucky, escaped from the county jail at Richmond, Ky., last night at 7:30 o'clock.

James Saylor, murderer, Steve Turner, assassin, and James Turner, cattle thief, also escaped. Mrs. Ball, accompanied by a child went to Richmond yesterday afternoon to visit her husband, who was held there for safekeeping and was to be taken to Frankfort in a few days to serve life imprisonment.

When Turnkey Leads entered to let Mrs. Ball out she signalled to one of the prisoners to grab him, and threw herself between the turnkey and her husband.

A gun was flashed in the turnkey's face and he was forced into a cell and the door closed on his arm. Mrs. Leads grabbed Ballas as he was escaping, and Mrs. Ball threw her arms around Mr. Leads' neck, aiding her husband in his flight. Mrs. Ball was arrested. A posse, headed by Sheriff Broaddus, is pursuing the fugitives.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN WEST VIRGINIA

Fairmount, W. Va., June 29.—Mannington, 18 miles west of here, was the scene of a gruesome triple tragedy this morning. James Coad, a former resident, returned last night, and learning that his wife was living with Samuel Hugh Williams, went to the house and murdered both. He then shot himself, but this morning was still alive. Coad has been out of the state for some time. It is presumed he did not know of the absence of his wife who obtained a divorce and remarried.

DETECTIVE KRAVER

Is Well Acquainted With Harry K. Thaw Who Has Been Indicted for Murder.

"I am well acquainted with Harry Kendall Thaw, who is charged with the murder of Stanford White, in New York," said Detective J. A. Kraver, of Pittsburg, who has been in the city for several months. He is an all round good fellow, and although very emotional, is open hearted and a good friend to those whom he likes. He has a magnificent home on Beechwood boulevard, Pittsburg, and his income is fully $70,000 per year. The night he was married I had charge of four detectives, two men and two women, whose services had been engaged to watch the [illegible] and guard the presents."

GOVERNOR'S SECRETARY.

Columbus, June 29.—Samuel J. Flickering, editor of the Dayton Journal, is being strongly talked of as the probable selection of the governor as his secretary.

Columbus, June 29.—The Cincinnati Lexow committee is hung up until after the Supreme court reconvenes September [illegible] as a result of the adjournment that court today for the summer without deciding that case to test the validity of the Senate committee [illegible] eaded by Chairman Drake. The failure of the court to announce a decision was a great surprise to all [illegible] rested. Auditor Gilbert refused to [illegible] the bills of the committee until [illegible] red to do so by the Supreme court. The failure of the court to decide [illegible] case leaves the committee without [illegible] nds.

ABDUCTED

From the Bridal Chamber by Jovial Friends Was Groom—Mother-in-Law Prostrated.

Bedford, Ind., June 29.—An attempt by friends [illegible] ke Clyde Quackenbush, who was married to Miss Grace Culhan, came near proving a serious matter to the mother of the bride.

Mrs Culhan was preparing the bridal chamber for the reception of the bride and groom when a loud knock sounded on the panels. The door was forced open and half a dozen men grabbed the groom. Mrs. Culhan grappled with the intruders, but only received a bruised arm for her pains.

A rope was thrown around the groom's neck and he was unceremoniously taken out of the bridal chamber and down the stairs to the landing, where a struggle with his captors followed, in which a large jardiniere was smashed to smithereens. Mrs. Culhan suffered an attack of nervous prostration and she was for a time in a serious condition.

DEADLOCK STILL ON.

Athens, O., June 29.—The conference of the miners and operators held here for the last four days will adjourn today without reaching an agreement on the dead work scale. It is probable that another conference will be called in Columbus shortly, but the deadlock over the wage scale cannot be broken. Numerous local union delegates will return home and report a disagreement.

ATTEMPT

To Rob a Bank by Means of a Telegram Foiled—Supposed Perpetrator Under Arrest.

Vicksburg, Miss., June 29.—The most complicated case of presumable forgery by telegraph will be brought to a head possibly one day this week. The First National Bank of this city received a telegram purporting to be from the Monroe National bank at Monroe, La., which read: "Pay to Ed Hayes $150." Cashier J. M. Phillips of the bank here, said after the message that he suspected something wrong, and gave out orders not to pay any money until he could hear from Monroe again.

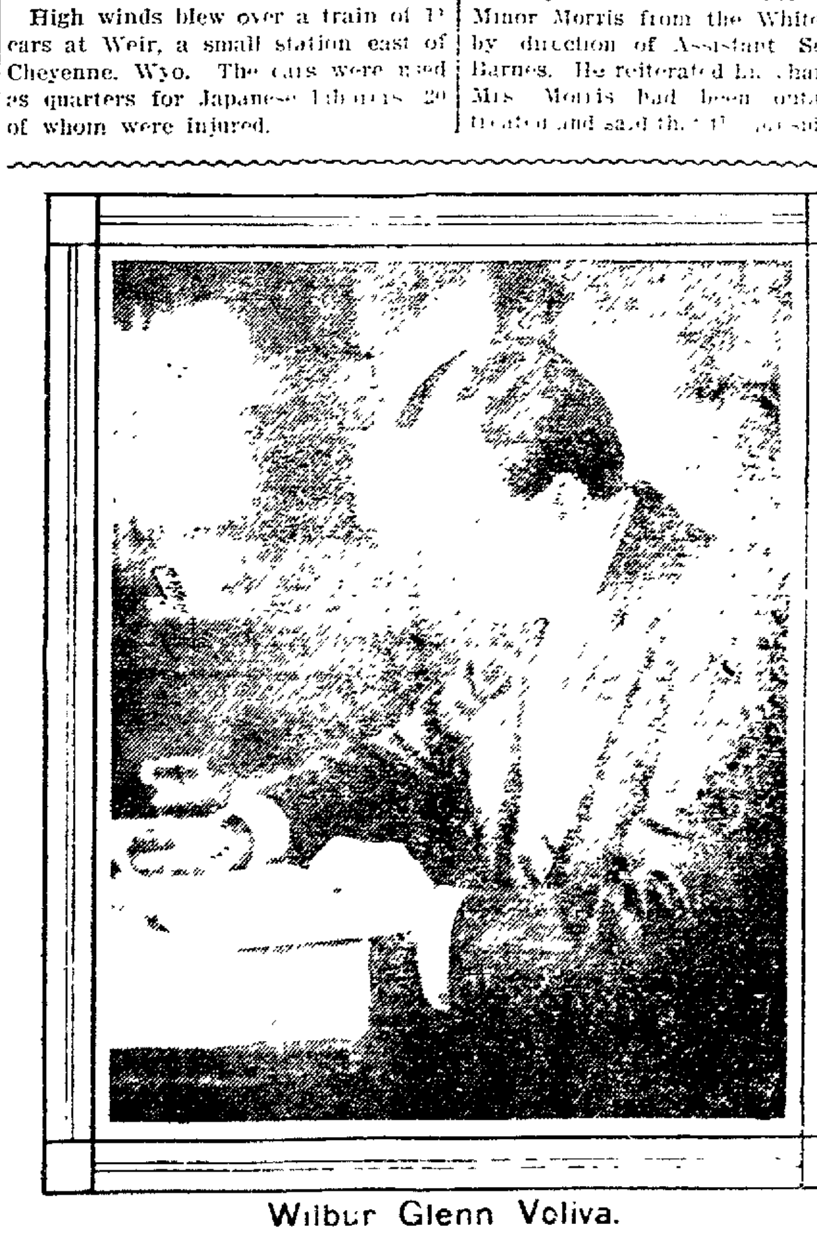

Thursday morning a young man giving the name of J. H. Loftin and who is now held in prison, according to Chief Price's statement went to Bud Bazzinsky, a liveryman, and convinced Mr. Bazzinsky his name was Ed Hayes and he was from Monroe.

Mr. Bazzinsky then agreed to go to the First National Bank and introduce him. When he did Cashier Phillips refused to pay any money on the telegram. The young man disclaimed having gone to the bank at all and claimed that Ed Hayes of Monroe, and Jake Lemie another young man from the same place, had been here with him in the morning and they had left. Hayes, he said told him he was about to get in trouble.

Chief Price refused to take the story, however, and upon Bizzinsky's positive identification of the man arrested him. The Western Union Telegraph company admit having taken the telegram and transmitted it here from the Monroe office, signed by the Monroe National bank. The local management is investigating but have nothing to give out here, as to whether the Monroe sender has been located, or who sent the message

Girls' dormitory of the Knox county industrial school, Knoxville Tenn., was totally destroyed by fire. The 58 girls sleeping in the building escaped without injury.

High winds blew over a train of 1? cars at Weir, a small station east of Cheyenne, Wyo. The cars were used as quarters for Japanese laborers, 20 of whom were injured.

NEWARK'S FEDERAL BUILDING IS NOW AN ASSURED FACT

The Site Has Not Yet Been Selected for the Handsome New Structure

The Bill Carrying the $90,000 Appropriation for This City Passed the Senate Thursday Night---Some Appropriations Were Reduced While Others Were Raised.

The news from Washington today that the Senate had passed, among other bills, the bill appropriating $90,000 for a new postoffice building in Newark, was hailed with delight by our people and especially by those who had worked so energetically in the interest of the bill. The bill passed the lower House some time ago, and is now a law.

The news that the bill had passed the Senate was especially pleasing to Mr. A. H. Heisey of this city, who devoted considerable time and gave the [illegible] his especial attention. There is probably no other postoffice in the country in a town the size of Newark, that can show as large an increase during the past three years as Newark, due largely to the city's phenomenal growth, and if any city is entitled to a public building, that city is Newark. At present Postmaster Heisey is unable to say where the new building will be located or to give any definite information regarding the matter.

Washington, June 29.—The senate discussed and passed the general deficiency appropriation bill carrying an appropriation of about $11,600,000. An amendment offered by Senator Gallinger, providing that the eight-hour law shall not apply to superintendents and foremen of laborers on the canal zone was accepted. The public building bill also was passed. On the suggestion of Secretary Shaw a provision appropriating $350,000 for an assay office in New York was added. Numerous efforts were made to secure increases, but to no avail, except a $100,000 increase at San Juan, Porto Rico.

The public buildings bill as passed by the senate contains several important amendments. New items were included as follows: Versailles, Ky., $25,000; East Liverpool, Ohio, $100,000; Fairmont, W. Va., $75,000; Grafton, W. Va., $10,000; Hinton, W. Va., $10,000. Reductions in appropriations made by the house bill are as follows: Columbus, $400,000, to $300,000; Toledo, $500,000, to $350,000; Bowling Green, Ky., $100,000, to $80,000; London, Ky., $65,000, to $40,000; Owensboro, Ky., $175,000, to $125,0000. Marietta, Ohio, $100,000, to $90,000; Catlettsburg, Ky., increased from $7,000 to $10,000.

Senator Tillman found opportunity to make his long deferred speech on the ejection in March last of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House by direction of Assistant Secretary Barnes. He reiterated his charge that Mrs. Morris had been outrageously treated and said the President had indorsed the action by appointing Barnes as postmaster of Washington.

The house worked under forced draught and accomplished an immense amount of business preparatory to adjournment. Conference reports on a number of measures were adopted without debate, but it required special rules in other particulars to effect consideration and adoption of some important conference agreements. Interest centered about the conference reports on the railroad rate bill, and the agricultural appropriation bill, but both these reports were considered and adopted under a blanket rule permitting the consideration of conference reports without being printed in the record. The house expressed its confidence in its conferees on the agricultural bill by instructing them not to recede from the meat inspection amendment by a vote of 193 to 45. On the rate bill there was a general expression of satisfaction that that measure had been perfected.

House on Meat Inspection.

Mr. Wadsworth sprung a surprise on the house by sending to the desk a resolution that it is the sense of the house that the conferees do not recede from its amendment known as the meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill, and the house was face to face with the proposition of having a contest with the senate. Mr. Wadsworth, after referring to the disagreement about the date going on the cans, insisted that it was not necessary. A vigorous protest against placing any charge of inspection on the packer was made by Mr. Burleson (Texas). The packer, he said, would immediately shift the burden on the cattle growers. Mr. Williams (Mississippi) said the situation is this: "The people (the packers) have been and are voluntarily endangering the public health and now they want the public to pay them for quitting it." Mr. Humphrey (Washington) talked about the "devils in hell" in conjunction with the packers paying the cost of inspection and inveighed against their insulting demands. The resolution that it was the sense of the house that the conferees refuse to recede was then adopted 193 to 45.

The senate agreed to the conference report on the Lake Erie and Ohio river ship canal bill.

BAD LANGUAGE WAS USED TODAY

In the House of Representatives in a Row Between Dalzell and Cooper.

Washington, June 29—The House began its proceedings today with a row between Representatives Dalzell, Pa., and Cooper, Wis., Republicans. Yesterday Cooper opposed a rule brought in by Representative Dalzell indirectly reflecting on Mr. Dalzell's purposes. In the Record this morning he had modified the language employed by him yesterday.

Representative Dalzell today announced the proceedings which he branded as "dishonorable" and "indecent," not "manly" nor "becoming."

Mr. Cooper replied that he did not mean to impugn Mr. Dalzell's motives, but that he had no apology to make. He charged that Mr. Dalzell's evident animosity may be attributed to his opposition to Mr. Dalzell's pet [illegible] the Lake Erie and Ohio River ship canal bill.

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

Columbus, June 29.—Governor [illegible] today announced the reappointment of Noah H. Swayne of Toledo, as member of the State Board of Arbitration. Ross J. M[illegible], Republican, of Gallipolis, was appointed to succeed Virgil C. Lowrey, Democrat, as trustee of the Athens State Hospital. He also reappointed Assistant Adjutant General Worthing [illegible] of Bellefontaine.

The callous cruelty and frightful malevolence of the Russian government toward its Jewish population are revealed in an abortive attempt to incite fresh anti-Jewish outbreaks. An ikon venerated by the common people was found mutilated in its niche in a church. Official influences whispered that here was another outrage by Jews. A very little investigation served, however, to show that the deed had been performed by "patriotic Russians," with the knowledge if not actual connivance, of the authorities, and having for its avowed purpose the inciting of another race riot. The only way the bureaucracy can keep its hold on the people seems to be by setting them at each others' throats, and this desperate resource seems at last doomed to failure. The end cannot be far away for such awful maladministration. Only the ignorance, patience and superstition of the peasantry has given it its long lease of power.

TOTAL COST OF BEVARD TRIAL

FIGURES NOT READY BUT WILL BE IN NEIGHBORHOOD OF EIGHTEEN HUNDRED.

Witnesses For State Drew $311 and for Defendant $1170—Other Costs Enumerated.

Clerk Hursey has just completed the cost bill in the case of the State of Ohio against Levi Bevard, tried and acquitted of the charge of murdering Mrs. Frances Wertz at her home on the Dry creek road, a few miles northwest of Newark, on May 31, 1905.

The total cost to the county will be in theneighborhood of $1800, not counting $96.93 costs for Clerk Hursey and $215.09 costs for Sheriff Redman, which they will lose as the law only provides for the allowance of $300 to each in case of conviction, and this has been used up in other cases during the year where the State failed to convict, thus leaving no balance to the Bevard case.

The costs in the case are divided as follows. Jury fees, $493 15; witnesses, Common Pleas court, $1170.80; Sheriff Redman's feets, $215.59; Clerk Hursey's fees, $96.95; witnesses before mayor, $148.50; guards, $6; bailiff, $30. The complete fees of the mayor and chief of police were not noted on thetranscript. In this case there were 60 witnesses for the State and 105 for the defendant. Witnesses for the State drew fees to the amount of $311.20 and the witnesses for the defendant were paid $1170 80. The witnesses and jurors have been paid in full, except witnesses before the mayor.

All right, said the aunt But before she left she went out in the garden where Jimmie had last been seen after breakfast time, and kicked over a few flower pots and such things behind which she suspected her youthful nephew might have chosen to hide

In the northeast corner of the garden are several tool chests belonging to James McCullom who is a stone mason. Mrs. Jackson opened the lids of these, one after another. In the last one she saw Jimmie, still smiling, dead.

(Special to Advocate.)

Sharon, Pa., June 29—Sharon and Newark fought hard in the baseball game at Independent park yesterday afternoon in the first of a three game contest to get away from the last place in the standing, the home team winning by a score of 5 to 6.

Sharon used three pitchers, Glassburner, McNally and Crowe, and the latter saved the game in the last of the eigth inning when the bases were full and two men were out.

Neither side scored in the first inning. Newark had a man left on bases in the second. Nagel opened the second for Sharon with a two bagger. Kerr sacrificed and Nagle scored on Clever's hit. Sellers was hit by a pitched ball, Gibson hit and the bases were full. Then Glassburner smashed one of Stone's curves for two bases and the three runners scored. The Newarks went out in order in the third. Sharon scored one run on two bases on balls, batter hit by pitcher and a hit.. It the fourth Newark scored on a base on balls and two singles. Sharon scored again in the fifth. Clever got his base on balls and in stealing second Snodgrass threw the ball to catcher but it went into the center field and Clever scored.

In Newark's half of the fifth Schlatter and Stone went out, Davis, Havel and Wratten hit in rapid succession, Snyder knocked a hit into left field and when the inning closed the visitors had three runs. McNally took Glassburner's place then. Neither side scored in the sixth or seventh, but in the eighth Newark with two men out succeeded in getting one run over the platter on an error, a hit, a base on balls and a man hit by the pitcher. With three on bases Charley Crowe took the rubber. Stone hit a hot one to Nagel at third and was retired at first cushion. In the ninth inning Newark went out one, two, three.

Manager Somers was put off the grounds for running from the bench into the field and kicking on a decision of Umpire Bates. The score:

Tibbitts was cut off at the rubber in the second by a brilliant throw from Ingerton and Bill Smith, got as far as third in the opener, when he singled and was given a walk around on a passed ball. NOT SO DANGEROUS ARE FIREWORKS THIS YEAR

This Fourth of July will be quite as usual — but not quite so destructive. Wholesale dealers in fireworks and explosives report a heavy trade. The retailers are now stocked up and ready to supply young America with the wherewithal to celebrate the anniversary of the nation's birth.

Many new things in the fireworks line have made their appearance this year, and all the old ones, with the exception of dynamite cartridges and pistols are still with us. These latter have not been handled by the wholesalers this year for the reason that the city authorities have determined to prosecute dealers selling them. All kinds of dangerous fireworks have been weeded out and plenty of amusement will be found in the use of the more innocent brands.

One of the oddest little importations is what is known as "the son of a gun torpedo." It is well named. It is a little red paper covered ball which when scrubbed with the foot, starts to explode with tiny cracks. There are about 50 explosions, lasting for a couple of minutes. It spits fire and as it begins to expand its force, bobs up and jumps about the floor.

There is something new in cane repeaters. Dynamite canes can now be fitted with a little box of caps which will repeat each time the cane is struck on the pavement. The caps are automatically discharged. These boxes of caps sell for five cents.

A pretty little explosion of confetti is caused by the lighting of a fuse to a square box resembling a match box. With a puff the powder lets go and a shower of confetti is sent skyward, covering the person aimed at. This is an imported German novelty.

The parachute rocket has been improved upon and when exploded soars gracefully in mid-air, slowly descending to the ground. A novelty in the snake line is a new importation. It is a little black ball enclosed in a piece of tinfoil and when lighted begins to vomit forth a black, wiggling snake. These come in penny and nickel sizes. These is also the usual assortment of bombs, pinwheels and rockets. The most expensive piece generally sold is the Japanese mine which retails at $1.

The indoor Roman candle can be lighted with safety in the parlor. More attention has been given by the dealers to the preparation of appropriate Fourth of July decorations than hitherto. Most of these come in folded tissue paper and are very pretty.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

S.S.S. CURES CANCEROUS ULCERS

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing, and shows signs of eating into the surrounding flesh, it is safe to say that the blood is infected with cancerous germs. Some old taint or poison that has lain dormant awaiting a favorable opportunity to assert itself has found an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body, and the place has become inflamed and festered, and a chronic ulcer is the result. When middle age is reached or passed, and the vital powers are naturally weaker, a hurt of any kind heals slowly, and often an insignificant scratch or bruise on warty growths, moles, pimples, etc., will begin to inflame and are soon large, eating ulcers. The cancerous germs are rooted in the blood, and while salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the surface clean, they are useless in affecting a cure. S.S.S. cures cancerous ulcers by going down into the blood and removing the germs and poisons which produce the trouble. It cleanses the circulation of all unhealthy matter, and when the cause is removed the sore heals permanently. S. S. S. enriches and strengthens the entire blood-supply, and being purely vegetable, it is a pleasant, safe remedy for young or old, and ulcers of every kind yield promptly to its curative properties. WHY GET MAD?

Over in Indianapolis, as in Newark, where the baseball team finds that there is plenty of room at the bottom of the standing record, they are trying to be cheerful about it. Somebody even writes a verse in the Indianapolis News on the subject, repeating Mr. Lowell's question and then answering it thus:

What is so rare as a day in June?
To see Indianapolis win a game.

HARVARD

Defeats Yale in a Great Race on the Thames River.

New London, Conn., June 29.—Harvard's 'varsity triumphed over Yale before the greatest crowd that ever gathered here on a race day, and coming after years of defeat, victory was sweet indeed to the crimson. It was a great Yale crew that Harvard defeated, a crew that had broken all records on the Thames in practice and went to the stake boat a favorite. To Captain Filley and Coach Wray, the supporters of the crimson are offering the greatest tributes that ever athletic heroes received. Harvard won, but Yale rowed a race that will live long in the annals of college sports. Not once from the start until the last sixteenth of a mile did the shells cease to lap each other. Harvard won the race by less than two lengths and a half. Her time was 23 minutes and two seconds; Yale's, 23 minutes, 11 seconds. While the crews had the tide with them they had a brisk quartering wind which made fast time impossible. The record for the course is 20 minutes and 10 seconds, made by the Yale crew in 1888.

COLONEL JACK CHINN

Shows Himself as a Philosopher and Gentleman in the Brown Affair, Says New York Sun.

Colonel Jack Chinn, one of the most salient, spirited and forcible of Kentucky statesman, is still on deck, and millions tingle at his mighty name, says the New York Sun. At Harrodsburg last week Colonel Chinn and Hon. Gracchus Simonides Brown had a long and learned dispute on the precision of the equinoxes, Colonel Chinn maintaining with solid weight of argument that the proper term was "the procession of the equinoxes." Mr. Brown must have been betrayed into unbecoming heat by his sense of the weakness of his position. At any rate, Colonel Chinn, who has never resorted to violent methods since Hon. Andrew Carnegie endowed the Temple of Janus, was compelled to lay hands gently, as the law hooks have it, upon the opposing wrangler, whom he is said to have knocked down with an umbrella. No Kentuckian could ever fall under the impact of such a weapon. If Mr. Brown fell it was because he felt that Colonel Chinn had right on his side.

The vulgar story that Mr. Brown upbraided the Colonel for riding through the Brunonian wheat fields with a pack of fox hounds may be dismissed with costs. Colonel Chinn is a great feudal lord. He has the right of way in all fields, and has ridden gloriously in all. Palpably unveracious, too, is the tale that the Colonel offered to pay for the damage, and drew a wad out of his breeches pocket for the purpose.

There was no damage. No farmer or planter would object to the inridings of Colonel Chinn. He is a Corn Spirit. He brings health and fertility to the crops. "Colonel Chinn," cotinues the legend, "walked away." That is true. He is not the man to run away. Mr. Brown followed him. That was where Mr. Brown made his mistake. He could not catch up with him in disputation. The Colonel touched him with the umbrella and the crushed conversationalist sank to earth.

The subsequent legal proceedings vindicated the Colonel as a philosopher, a logician and a chevalier. The court fined him $1. Some accounts say one cent. Mr. Brown's fine, with costs, amounted to $13. Colonel Chinn paid both sums, and begged Mr. Brown to oblige him with the lian of his right hand in friendship's grasp, and the triumphant and the defeated scholar walked out of court together. Doubtless they soon made a friendly observation as to the specific gravity and gayety of the wine of the country.

"I have fought with knives and fists," says the Colonel, "but it is the first time I ever hit a fellow with an umbrella.

This magnanimous old friend must be reminded again that he didn't hit with the umbrella, but with the heavy hammer of his argument. Henceforth the procession of the equinoxes will be as long as it chooses in passing a given Kentucky point where the cheer is good.

ALL FOR A NICKEL!

Any one who fails to get a copy of the Pittsburg Dispatch next Sunday, July 1, will miss a rare treat. Every one knows The Dispatch is the "best always" but there are some reasons why next Sunday's paper will eclipse any other paper in this or any other territory.

First, a beautiful picture, 10x15, worth framing and fit to adorn the wall of any room in any house will be given absolutely free.

Next Sunday's Dispatch will contain the first part of "The Lady Evelyn," by Max Pemberton a novel of charming romance, lightning action, extraordinary mystery. It cost $150,000 to secure the right to publish this novel and eleven others before they are published in book form. The Dispatch was successful in securing the right to publish them in its territory—one complete novel every month.

"Pecks Bad Boy," and "Little Growing Bud," pronounced the best comic features in the country, have been added to the comic section of The Dispatch making it better than the comic section of any other two papers.

If you should not be a regular reader tell your newsdealer to save you a copy of next Sunday's Dispatch

SOCIETY SHAKEN BY A BURGLARY

WHICH IS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN COMMITTED BY MILLIONAIRE'S SON.

Young Clubman Arrested in Pittsburg for the Crime, Breaks Down and Confesses.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 29.—Pittsburg society was shaken to its foundation when Frank Galey, son of one of the prominent families in the city, was arrested near midnight on the charge of burglarizing the residence of James B. Laughlin, of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company in Brawell street, this city. Immediately upon being placed under arrest young Galey broke down and confessed, implicating Joseph Boyd, son of another prominent East End family. The police are still looking for Boyd.

Galey is 21 years of age. He is the son of Samuel Galey and nephew of John H. Galey, partner of Colonel James M. Guffey, the millionaire oil producer, and Democratic National committeeman. Colonel Guffey just met defeat yesterday at Harrisburg in the Democratic State convention, where he was voted out and Lewis Emery, Jr., was nominated for Governor against his direct orders. Young Galey graduated this week from the Lawrenceville preparatory school, and was to enter Princeton next term

Galey and Boyd both appeared in court to testify in the W. DeForest Lappe murder case. Lappe was another of the gilded youths of the East End. A year ago, in company with Boyd, Galey and a crowd of young men from the swell residence section of the city, they were doing the Pittsburg tenderloin. Some trouble arose among them which resulted in a street fight. Policeman Rufus Ullam saw the distrubance and ran toward the young men. They saw him coming and started to run. Ullam not knowing who they were or the trouble, ordered them to halt, and when they did not do so, pulled his gun and fired

The shot hit young Lappe and he died two hours later in the Homeopathic Hospital. The outcry against Ullam for having killed the son of a millionaire tanner was tremendous. Newspapers and others demand that he be held for murder, although every year policemen kill men under precisely similar circumstances in this city and are exonerated by the coroner.

Ullam has rested under a charge of murder ever since, and his trial has been called a number of times, but has been postponed each time.

The Ullam trial was called again and Boyd and Galey appeared in court to testify. The case was again put off until next term, and the young men repaired to the Union cafe, in the Frick building, where all the gilded youths of Pittsburg go when they want to spend money fast. Here, Galey says, Boyd broached the subject of the burglary to him. He explained that the Laughlin family was away from the house for the summer.

There was no guard about the house in daylight, and it would be easy for them to break in, ransack the place and get away.

Galey, after a sufficient number of drinks, consented to join in the undertaking.

They had no trouble getting into the house, but were discovered before they had been long in, and made their escape. Last night Galey was picked up on description furnished by parties who saw the young fellows getting into the house, and arrested. He immediately made a confession, and implicated Boyd. That young man has not yet been captured, but Galey occupies a cell in No. 1 Police Station.

Owing to the absence of the Laughlin family no details as to the loss due to the burglary could be obtained, and Galey's collapse is so complete he is unable to inform the police whether or not he and his companion realized much by their work or not.

The police are making a careful investigation, as they think the young men may know something of the burglary of the residence of Mrs. Wm Thaw, mother of Harry Kendall Thaw, the New York murderer, a couple of weeks ago. Fifty thousand dollars' worth of jewels and valuables are alleged to have been taken in that burglary, although the police are strenuously denying it at one time and again asserting that it occurred months ago or that it occurred in New York.

Despite the lateness of the hour at which the arrest was made, the news spread around the city with incredible rapidity and the entire East End district is worked over this latest escapade of the fast young men of Pittsburg.

Coming so quickly following the sensational murder of Stanford White in New York by Harry Kendall Thaw, it is one of the heaviest shocks Pittsburg society has had to stand for some time.

HUMANE SYSTEM OF EXECUTION

Is Being Sought in Maryland—Governor May be Asked to Appoint Commission.

Baltimore, Md., June 29—The attempt to do away with hanging as the means of executing the death penalty is now being actively pushed by two entirely distinct forces in this state.

Wednesday the committee of the Prisoners' Aid Society, which was appointed by President J. Harry Tregoe, reported in favor of abolishing execution by hanging and the adoption of some less painful method, such as electrocution.

While the society suggest electrocution no definite decision was reached, as medical experts are very much divided over the comparative humanity of death by electricity or the noose. The most painless method, according to a unanimous medical opinon, would be the injection of three grains of morphine in to the big veins of the forearm. The fatal dose would, of course, be prepared by a physician in attendance and administered by the sheriff, who now operates the drop at hangings.

When the next legislature meets the Prisoners' Aid Society, backed by a physician in attendance, and ad- of a state commission selected by the governor to investigate the most humane method of putting criminals to death, and the report, if possible, to the same general assembly, in order to avoid the two year delay that would otherwise occur.

Dr. Marshall L. Price, medical assistant to Dr. John S. Fulton, secretary of the State Board of Health, will shortly begin the collection of statistics on the actual physical conditions of hanged criminals. These will afford some scientific data of great value to present to the next legislature, and will be used as a basis of experience upon which the committee could work in reporting its recommendations either to the general assembly or to the governor.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

The case of Elizabeth Markham, wife of Richard Markham, vs. Frank E. Slaybaugh, as executor of Annie Nelson, being a suit for the partition of certain real estate in the village of Luray, this county, came up in the Court of Common Pleas on appeal from the judgment of the Probate court. The case involves an interesting legal question, as to whether Mrs. Markham, who was an heir at law of Robert Nelson, has any interest in certain property at Luray(which was owned by Peter and Robert Nelson. The court below held that the plaintiffs were entitled to one-sixth, and the defendant to five-sixths of the real estate. This matter came before the Court of Common Pleas on review. Kibler & Montgomery; Slaybough.

Frank McKee vs. Oscar Mikesell and George Harsch, an action to enjoin the defendant from issuing an execution for costs in a case tried before Joseph Harsch, the question raised being that Harsch did not qualify within the statutory time as a justice of the peace, and therefore that he did not have authority to hear the action. Smythe & Smythe; Fitzgibbon. Argued and submitted to court.

THE NURSING MOTHER

She Needes Food Especially Adapted to Herself and Baby—A Pure Food Easily Digested.

The Results of What She Eats Are Show in Her Offspring.

We often meet youngsters whose pimply or blotchy skins tell a story of improper nourishment—of greasy foods, vegetables not properly cooked, and poor bread.

These conditions exist because enough care is not taken in the selection of diet by the nursing mother.

Only those foods that can meet all the requirements of both mother and child should be eaten, and the simpler they are the better.

Hardyfood is the ideal food for both mother and child at all times

It is a brain, nerve, bone and muscle builder, easily digested, and its wastes are rapidly eliminated from the system.

It is the best food for children at any age, especially the growing and school age.

It is pleasing to the taste, and eaten with milk or fruits will sustain the person indefinitely without other nourishment.

It is all ready to eat from the package, but can be cooked again or prepared in many ways.

Hardyfood is an economical food, as a 10-cent package contains enough for 10 to 15 meals, a cost of less than a cent a meal.

If you have never eaten Hardyfood you have a food lesson to learn. Put it on your table at once.

All grocers—10 cents.

FORTY SUCKERS ON HER STRING

When the Married Woman, Who Posed as a Miss, Was Taken Into Custody.

St. Louis, Mo., June 29—Forty men have been paying court to mysterious Bessie Dale, according to letters found in the room of Mrs. Rose Vinton, who, with her husband, Charles Vinton, was arrested at 502 North Fifteenth street, taking her to places of amusement, each of them in the belief that he was going to marry her and each thinking himself the one and only object of her undying affection.

Some of the letters indicate that the writers had advanced money to the object of their love, in an effort to help her out of some mysterious trouble. According to the dates of the letters the deception was carried on for nearly a year. The letters are all addressed to Miss Bessie Dale, 502 North Fifteenth street.

Some are in reply to matrimonial advertisements, others are written by men who inserted matrimonial advertisements and received replies from "Bessie Dale." Mrs. Vinton declares that she is not "Bessie Dale."

Recently Chief of Police Gillespy received complaints from several of the letter writers. They stated to the chief that they doubted the sincerity of Miss Dale. They did not believe she was looking for a husband, but wanted some one to spend money on her.

Mrs Vinton says she in turn gave the letters to Miss Dale, who she says resided with her until a few days ago.

JOHNSTOWN

Interesting Letter from One of the Most Enterprising Towns of Licking County.

Johnstown, O., June 28—On last Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs James Brush, who reside about four miles west of Johnstown, a wedding took place, the parties being Miss Grace M. Brush and Oscar G. Tharp. They were married by Rev. Lathrop in the presence of the immediate families. These young people are very well and favorably known here and each have a large circle of friends who wish them well in all their undertakings in life. They are both industrious people and we feel that success for them in life is sure. They will at once go to housekeeping, they having rented the house now owned by Geo. Garlinghouse and formerly owned by Frank Mount.

L S Copeland left Friday for Billings, Mont., where he will remain for some time. He went there to take chances on getting drawn for a tract of the government lands known as the Crow reservation, which will be distributed to indivaduals as drawn. July 1, and each succeeding day thereafter until the whole is given away. Each tract to contain a quarter section, or 160 acres. From among all the names applying 100 names will be drawn each day until there is no land left. We wish Mr. Copeland success and would be pleased to hear of his getting first choice of land.

The children's day exercises given at the M. E. church on last Sunday evening were highly pleasing to all who were present. The recitations were splendid and the songs were good, and in fact everything was rendered in a manner which merited applause. The superintendent and the teachers were complimented by Rev. Lathrop for the good work they had done during the past year. The children were greeted by a large audience, it being necessary to open the Sunday school room in order to seat the people.

The many friends of F. P. Householder, superintendent of the Utica schools are pleased to learn of his recent success before the state board of school examiners that finished its session at Sandusky last Saturday afternoon. At this session Prof. Householder was one of the successful applicants and was granted a state life certificate. He is a very able man and a success in his profession. His many friends in Johnstown extend congratulations.

Misses Edna and Gladys Wright of Newark came up Saturday to visit their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wolfe and other relatives. Edna returned Monday, and Gladys will remain for a few days.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

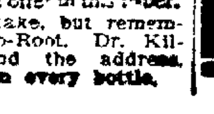

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours, a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED.

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse monthly periods, accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. ICE MEN WILL HAVE A HOT TIME

FOR SIX MONTHS IN THE WORK HOUSE IN TOLEDO.

Fight on the Combines in Philadelphia and in Missouri Towns is on in Earnest.

Toledo, O., June 29.—After the hearing of evidence introduced to show that the Hygeia Ice company was justified in increasing its price this year, and that a reduction would be made to all consumers on the basis of $7 20 per ton to domestic consumers, Judge Kinkade rendered his decision on the motion to modify the sentance of R A Beard and R. C. Lemmon, of that company, and reduce the fines to $2 .00 and the workhouse sentence to the minimum of six months

As to the workhouse sentence this decision is final, but Judge Kinkade announced that he would hold the file in abeyance, with the indication that it would be further modified as later developments would justify. He said that the fine would not be allowed to be a burden to the convicted ice men nor to prolong their imprisonment one hour. Later he said he would be willing to entertain a motion in regard to the fine at the proper time What the reduction would be Judge Kinkade did not indicate, but he said that each defendant should at least pay the entire costs of his prosecution.

The court ordered that matters now take their regular course, and Beard and Lemmon will be taken to the workhouse as soon as the entries are made and the commitment papers are made out. This will probably be today.

In an effort to comply with the court order and secure the release of Joseph A. Miller from custody, the Toledo Ice and Coal company also announced a cut in ice prices.

The Miller motion for suspension was heard late yesterday afternoon, and his sentence reduced to the same as Beard and Lemmon's. Breining & Walters, attorneys, will file their motion for suspension of sentence today.

The result of the motions in behalf of Beard and Lemmon are a keen disappointment to the prisoners, as they were expecting their release to be effected yesterday. A persistent rumor is afloat, however, that the prisoners will never serve their sentence in the workhouse, but will be pardoned by the board of public service before entering the institution.

Uniform Prices.

St Louis, Mo., June 29—Preliminary to their appearance before the grand jury, which has begun an investigation of the Ice Trust, Y T. Gadney and O. E Kluskey, independent ice dealers, were examined by Assistant Circuit Attorney Fickeissen

In the course of the examination, Mr Fickeissen learned that certain ice manufacturers, whose names are withheld, have declined to quote prices on ice without first referring them to a meeting of ice men Mr. Kluskey, manager of the Vandeventer Coal and Ice company, stated that it was significant that the bids submitted to him by the Polar Wave and Merchants' companies were identical, $3.60, and excess of $1 over the price paid last year.

Governor Folk, while in St. Louis Wednesday, discussed the ice investigation with Circuit Attorney Sager Before returning to Jefferson City he said the fight on the trust had begun in Kansas City and that the authorities in many other towns were ready to begin.

To Learn How.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 29.—County Prosecutor Charles P. Benedict left for Toledo, O., to study the methods employed by the Prosecutor there in obtaining the conviction of the members of the Toledo Ice Trust. He will remain in Toledo two or three days. Deputy Prosecutor Groninger says the prosecutor's office is obtaining evidence which it is hoped will lead to the indictment of the promoters of the alleged local ice trust.

DRAGGED FROM THE QUICKSANDS

After Twenty-Two Hours of Hard Work—Fisher May Not Survive His Fearful Ordeal.

New York, June 29—After fighting against death for more than 22 hours Jeremiah Fisher, a plumber, was rescued alive yesterday from a sand pit at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, in which he had been imprisoned since 11 o'clock the day before. The rescued man is in a pitiable condition from exhaustion, however, and it is not certain that he will survive the effects of his frightful ordeal.

When the rescuers began to abandon hope of getting Fisher out alive they reluctantly decided to notify his family of his predicament, and his wife, mother and brother were witnesses of the all night fight for life which followed. Hundreds of persons from various parts of the island had flocked to the scene, and many of them remained all night. An ambulance with physicians and nurses also stood by in constant readiness, and two clergymen waited the call to administer the last rites.

All through the night the rescuers labored under the glare of torches, and when daylight came they had succeeded in uncovering the imprisoned man's body as far down as the hips. Then ropes were attached under Fisher's arms, but even the combined strength of 20 men failed to move the imprisoned man an inch. Fisher then was unconscious, and the physicians who had been watching his condition declared that there remained only the faintest hope of his surviving longer.

The rescuers stuck to their task, however, and hours later, when the last obstacle was removed and the senseless form of Fisher was drawn from the stifling hole, a spark of life still lingered. His condition was extremely critical, but the physicians said there remained a chance that he might recover.
